

Tech Tip Tuesday—June 25, 2019

Announcement

Because of the timing of this year's Independence Day holiday, the Livery Coach office will be closed on Thursday, July 4th, and Friday, July 5th, so that our team can enjoy some time with their families. We will reopen for normal business on Monday, July 8. As always, emergency support is available 24/7.

Boot Camp Survey—Results

We would like to thank all of you who responded those of you who responded to our boot camp survey. Based on the results, here's what we are planning:

The next boot camp will be on September 9-10, 2019.

The location will be in the Philadelphia area. (And this was close, with Dallas a strong contender, so we will look into having a future boot camp in Dallas).

Based on the above, we have one more mini-survey, so that we can locate a suitable venue (either in the western suburbs of Philadelphia, perhaps at the site of a previous Boot Camp, or in Center City (downtown) Philadelphia.
